

CONSERVATION WALKS

This permissive footpath follows a combination of arable margins designed to enhance the habitat for farmland birds. Look out for the rare Cirl Bunting, which delights in nesting in thick hedges, feeding on seeds within the winter stubble's of spring cereals. Look also for the rare arable weeds, Corn Marigold, Corn Spurrey and Bugloss which favour the cultivated fields.

This access has been provided under the Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs' farm conservation schemes, which help farmers and land managers protect and improve the countryside, its wildlife and history. It is permissive access and no new rights of way are being created. Existing rights of way are not affected. Please follow the Country Code and observe any other requirements shown above. Do not disturb wildlife, livestock or other visitors and in particular keep dogs under control. This is working farmland so please take care; people using this site do so at their own risk. Access ends in September 2009.
